School began and old friends met. There was a new class to get to know and vice versa. Confusion about where to go when was evident the first few days. The football team began its season in Region I-AAA for the first time. Everyone had high hopes for the year. Thrall week provided the seniors with a great time. Thralls didn't seem to mind the occasion very much. The Annual Staff got off to a start selling ads.

 - Oct 31: 2-Team

Classes and football games continued and Homecoming was awaited. Students were becoming used to the routine of Lowndes High. Sophomores began to identify with the school. Homecoming came and was rained out. The parade flopped in a drizzle, and then it rained at the game and half-time was soggy. The dance provided some lift for the disheartened student body. The 8th district GALA convention was held in the LHS Lecture Room.

Everyone began counting the days until Christmas Holidays. The basketball teams did well and were well supported by the student body and cheerleaders. The Christmas Cantata, presented by the LHS Symphonic Band and the Mixed Chorus, was enjoyed by all who attended. Christmas Holidays began and so did the Christmas Tournament.

Welcome back after Christmas Holidays!
Classes resumed and studying was emphasized for a time, especially as the semester was ending. However, those basketball games were not forgotten: as always the crowds enjoyed the games. Seniors began to think about graduation as they ordered invitations and caps and gowns.

School relaxed during February. The semester was over and you eased off a while. The Annual Beta Club Talent Show offered delightful entertainment with a variety of talent as well as the Blues Kazoos. The push to finish your science project began and passed and as usual, the affair came off well. The LHS track and baseball teams began practice looking forward to a good season. The month ended with the annual Sweetheart Ball.

Six weeks tests, State Beta Club convention, and 8th District Band Festival in one week! Then came the once-postponed Student/Faculty Basketball Game, the Patch Dance and Spring Holidays. School resumed to "Our Miss Brooks;" The first Senior Class play which starts a tradition. Next came the Region I-AAA Literary Meet and then March left LHS with the Junior Class Ring Ball. The first 1969 baseball game came in March.

Baseball continued into April leading up to the Easter Holidays. Then came the FHA State Convention and the Annual Princess Frey Ja Contest. The Drama Department presented "You The Jury," then the Y clubs sent their representatives to their State convention. Then came the Boy's Beauty Contest with plenty of laughs and another play, "The Scarecrow," as well as the first Junior/Senior Banquet.

The Junior/Senior Dance opened the last month of classes. People began to realize that is was almost over. The LHS Mixed Chorus presented the "Mikado" in the lecture room and then in the City Auditorium. The LHS Band presented its Spring Concert at the City Auditorium. Honors Day came and all those awards and certificates were given out again. "Dark of the Moon" was presented and the Seniors did finally have Kids Day.

Baccalaureate and graduation: times to remember and then look forward. Regret that high school is over and you must leave LHS, that "at last" feeling about your diploma, and then think of all that's ahead: a career, marriage, family ...

County Office Hours

The policy makers and go-getters, without which LHS could not run is the Lowndes County School System Main Office. The Board of Education and Superintendent A. B. Martin make the major decisions; Mrs. Ann McDonald and Mr. Jessie Griffin keep the LHS lunchroom and those of all other county schools running; Mr. Sidney Neville is research director; the secretaries handle the paperwork for the county schools; and the speech therapist, Mrs. Bare, works with individual students.

Not shown are the curriculum directors, Mrs. Ola Dupree and Mr. James Goolsby; the visiting teachers, Mrs. Elizabeth McLane and Mr. Walter Altman; and the coordinator of special education, Mrs. Verta Zant.

The Library

With the guidance and help of Mr. Jimmy Lee Wall, the library is one of the focal points for learning at LHS. Whether one comes to study, to read a book, or to play a friendly game of chess, the library is well-equipped to assist you.

There are almost six thousand books in the library. Along with the numerous records and periodicals, they all add up to a fine research center.

Unofficial LHS Officials

Within any school there are teachers, pupils, and the administration. But of course there is the need to feed all of these people, clean up after them, and take them home. These necessary tasks are cheerfully accepted by the lunchroom staff, the custodians, and the bus drivers.

With an early-morning smile or an extra roll at lunchtime, these school workers have won their way into the hearts of many students and teachers. Truly they have the Viking Spirit.

The Saga keeps a year long vigil.
It watches, listens, and records the life of Lowndes High.

It is the reliable source of information for the students while serving as an instrument to voice student opinions.

Its standards are as hard to maintain as its deadlines. It is always advancing and improving itself.

Its reputation for forthrightness will be a task for future staffers to maintain.

It can be remembered that 1968-69
was a good year for the SAGA.

Capture Year's

Time, patience, work, and loads of perseverance are qualities the "Munin" staff need to meet their ever-threatening deadline. Through hours of planning, picture taking, cropping, writing copy, and proof reading, staff members piece together the history of the year involving students. The efforts of the "Munin" staff are rewarded when the fruits of their labor return as a bound volume.

Plays, Debates, and Fun.

Plays, Debates, and Fun:

Speech and drama are made up of these three and more. Second year drama students produced a play, directed by Mrs. Dorothy Carter, which won third in state competition. The debate team won second in State.

Although the students are also taught the history of drama, they give impromptu speeches, skits, and improvisations. They learn to speak before strange groups. Speech and drama is a year full of exploring and creating. A student oftentimes finds himself when he takes speech and drama.

Art students make spirit posters for sports events, paintings for classrooms, and one of their most outstanding creations is the huge ring used at the Ring Ball.

Honor's Day awards went to students from all classes and catagories. Many students were recipients of several awards and received recognition for being all-round good students and for various achievements in several subjects. The valedictorian, Regina Lamon, and the salutatorian, Teresa Parrish, led the senior class with grade averages of 95, while Jo Karon Lane and Gail Lamon led the junior and sophomore classes.

The Senior Superlatives and major award winners shown above, are recognized here for every honor they received.

Due to lack of picture space, honor recipients are shown only once so that they will be recognized as award receivers. Some award and certificate winners are not shown.

Create, Maintain, and Extend throughout the Home, School, and Community, high standards of Christian Character ... the motto of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y of Lowndes High was carried out to its fullest in 68-69 year. During Thanksgiving boxes of food were given to needy families. At Christmas a party was given for underprivileged children.

Next came the patch dance. The girls asked the boys, paid their way, and some of the girls even took their guys out to eat.

A black and white photograph of a large group of students in a classroom, each holding a sign with a name. The signs are arranged in rows, creating a grid-like pattern of names. The students are looking towards the camera, and the classroom setting is visible in the background. The names on the signs include: BLIN, VALDOSTA, DAVIS, AYNSBORO, S. INOLE, KELY, CROSS, FORD, HIGBY, MONTE, FOR, DA, ME, and others. The students are seated at desks, and the classroom has a high ceiling and large windows.

A black and white group photograph of the 1966-67 Boys' Basketball Team. The team consists of 18 young men posed in four rows. The front row has three players, the second row has four, the third row has five, and the back row has six. They are wearing a mix of sweaters, jackets, and collared shirts. A flag is visible in the background.

Youth Assembly is always the highlight of every year. At Youth Assembly the delegates learn our state lawmakers functions. They meet our governor and make laws. The Youth Assembly's peak is at the Banquet at which the 2000 teenagers gather, eat and hear distinguished speakers. In attending Youth Assembly the delegate is making himself not only a better citizen but a more knowledgeable person.

FTA, striving to uphold its duty to persuade students to become teachers, is one of the largest clubs with 62 members. Besides electing the "Teacher of the Month," the club also honors teachers at social occasions.

Convention time found sponsor Mr. Jack Webb, President Teresa Parrish, and officers Anita Long, Jackie Hambrich, J. R. Carter, Greg Odom, and Lovie Pittman heading for Rock Eagle.

Meetings every club day were successful as several teachers spoke on the problems and rewards of teaching.

FBLA Helps Students Learn

The Future Business Leaders of America have faced the business world with enthusiasm and knowledge gained from Lowndes High. The purpose of the club is to prepare and help the students gain interest in the business field.

During the past year FBLA sponsored a teacher talent show. Talented members participated in entertaining members of the student body and guests.

Club sponsors, Mrs. Linda Sands and Mrs. Alice Osborn, along with Mrs. June Sweat, presented a western act in the talent show (bottom left).

These Are the Tough

Numerous temporary injuries and lack of participation held the Vikings to a 2-8 record for the 1968 season. Newcomers to 1-AAA, their greatest achievement was scoring against their cross-town rivals, the Valdosta Wildcats. Serious injuries prevented many boys from finishing the season.

*Combination of Talents Brings
16-6 Season*

The girl's game is over. Coach Cooper says his last words, "All right, boys, you've worked for it. Now go out and get it!" Pride explodes as the warm up begins, the crowd cheers. The jump ball starts the game and minute by minute player excitement builds. The spectators feel it, too.

Everybody remembers all the important things: beating Valdosta, Terry Wilkes scoring the last 2 points with 3 seconds left to win against Tifton, winning a trophy in the Christmas tournament, coming from way behind to beat Moultrie, everyone fouling out except Jerome Register in the Monroe game. Martin Hendrix's ball-handling, Alan Simpson's set shot, Henry Register's rebounding, Jerry Whid-don's spirit, and Coach Cooper's patience are also notable. These gave the Vikings a winning season.

Hard Work Brings Vikettes Fourth in 1-AAA

The Vikettes proved this year that hard work and Saturday practices pay off. This time it all paid off in trophies, two of them. The Vikettes captured second place in the Christmas tournaments and fourth in Region 1-AAA contests in Albany.

The seniors (bottom center), Mary Dasher, Kay Barfield, Janet Flynt, Vicki Kautzman, and Diana Coffman were proud to help bring these trophies home.

The Vikettes lost seven games by less than five points to compile a 12-14 record. Nevertheless, they played their best giving 100 per cent all the time and earned the respect of their coach and many of their foes.

Coach Steve Kebler spent long hours with the girls striving for the best. The strain, the fatigue, and all the long hours put the Vikettes where they belonged.

Junior Varsity – the Beginning of a Viking

As a new door on life was opened for the young sophomores they learned the happiness and trials of being a Viking. For the first time in high school the Junior Varsity groups heard the thrills of Cheerleaders' yells, felt the hard contact of football players.

Though the game may not have always been won, the courage never failed and sportsmanship was high for they were working toward the honor of being a Viking.

Rebuilding Vikes End With 1-6 Season

The Lowndes High baseball team was in a rebuilding season this year. They graduated all of last year's starters except Freddy Steedley and Butch Moore. Their 13 game schedule was destroyed by rain as they played only 7 games. Out of these 7 they won one and lost six.

Track Team Sends 6 Boys to State

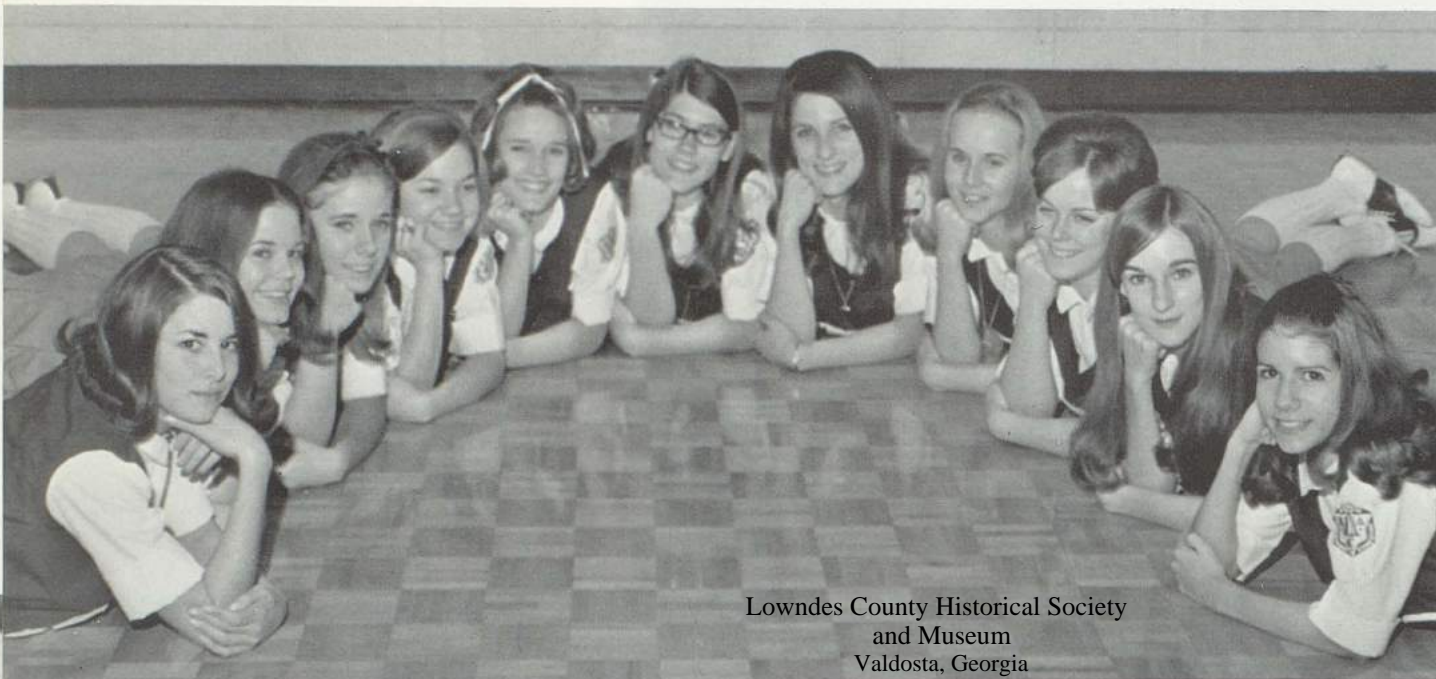

Although the Lowndes High track team didn't win any big meets this year, they showed outstanding ability by sending 6 boys to the state track meet in Atlanta. Charles Ussery represented Lowndes in the 2-mile run, the team of Jerry Whiddon, Henry Orr, James Johnson, and Gary Lowery in the mile relay, James Johnson in the 880-yard run, and Terry Wilkes, who placed third, in the high jump.

Several school records were broken by this year's team. Former records were broken by Jerry Whiddon in the triple jump and long jump, Terry Wilkes in the high jump and discus, Jeff Coppage in the pole vault, Charles Ussery in the mile and 2-mile run, James Johnson in the 880 run, and the mile relay team in the mile relay.
